Project Description

Galaxis is a dynamic mix-used development that offers state-of-the-art business space, vibrant retail activities and modern urban living options. The development is located in the Fusionopolis cluster, which brings cross disciplinary capabilities in the technology, research and media industry.

Microtac Systems is privileged to be selected to participate in this exciting development project. We were tasked to provide the access floor system for the 17-storey business space tower, spanning 52,000 sqm. Our access floor solution is able to provide ease of access to essential building services and is flexible enough to be easily reconfigured to optimize the business needs of the contemporary business space users.
